    - Responsive and fast UI built with Next.js pages and components
    - Handles file selection, progress tracking, and API communication with backend
    - Localization: German (using `next-i18next` or built-in Next.js i18n)
    - Frontend handles upload interface; processing moved to backend

Backend

- Framework: Python (FastAPI preferred, Flask optional alternative)
- Language: Python 3.x
- Hosting: Hetzner Cloud (Germany)
- Key Features:
  - Handles large file uploads (PDFs and multiple images) securely
  - Implements asynchronous processing for heavy PDF operations (merge, compress, split)
  - Uses scalable background task system via Celery + Redis
  - Secure file storage with auto deletion after processing
  - RESTful API endpoints for frontend integration

- Libraries Used:

- `PyPDF2` → PDF merge, split, compress, extract
- `Pillow` → Convert images (JPG, PNG, WEBP) to PDF
- `Celery` + `Redis` → Background job management
- `python-multipart` → File upload handling in FastAPI
- `aiofiles` → Async file I/O for upload streaming

---

Deployment

- Platform: Hetzner Cloud (Germany region for GDPR compliance)
- Architecture:
  - FastAPI app containerized via Docker
  - Nginx reverse proxy for HTTPS (Let's Encrypt SSL)
  - Redis + Celery workers running as separate services
  - File system isolated for temp storage (auto-cleaned periodically)
- Advantages:
  - Full control over compute, memory, and storage
  - Capable of handling heavy PDF and image workloads
  - GDPR-compliant data residency within Germany
- Disadvantages:
  - Slightly higher infrastructure management effort compared to Vercel
  - Requires periodic server maintenance (cleanup, scaling)

---

Processing

- Mode: Server-side processing (Python backend)
  - Workflow:
    - User uploads files via Next.js frontend
    - Files sent to FastAPI upload endpoint
    - Celery worker handles PDF operations asynchronously
    - Processed file stored temporarily and returned via secure download link
    - Auto deletion scheduled after a short retention period
  - Libraries:
    - PyPDF2 → Merge, Split, Compress, Rotate
    - Pillow → Image-to-PDF conversion
    - Ghostscript (optional) → High-efficiency compression
  - Pros:
    - Handles large and multiple file uploads
    - Offloads CPU-heavy tasks from browser
    - Stable, scalable, and secure
  - Cons:
    - Increased server cost
    - Requires worker management and monitoring

Security

- File Security:
  - All uploads stored in temporary secure directories
  - Files automatically deleted after processing

- Virus scan option (ClamAV integration, optional)
  - API Security:
    - JWT-based authentication for admin routes (optional)
    - HTTPS enforced via Nginx
    - Input validation using FastAPI Pydantic models
    - Rate-limiting and CORS protection
  - System Security:
    - Isolated Docker containers for API, Redis, and workers
    - Regular dependency scanning and OS patching

Privacy (German Market - GDPR)

- Hosting: Hetzner Cloud (Germany) – ensures data stays in EU jurisdiction
  - Data Policy:
    - Files never shared or stored permanently
    - Auto deletion after short retention window
    - Logs anonymized (no personal data stored)
  - Legal Compliance:
    - German-language privacy policy
    - Cookie consent for analytics
    - Optional DPA (Data Processing Agreement) available for enterprise clients

Performance

- Optimizations:

- Asynchronous uploads using FastAPI + aiofiles
  - Background task processing via Celery workers
  - Efficient in-memory PDF merging and compression
  - Redis caching for task state tracking
  - Monitoring:
    - Prometheus + Grafana for server metrics (optional)
    - Sentry for error tracking
    - Auto scaling of workers based on load

Localization

- Language: German (primary)
  - Implementation: `next-i18next` or Next.js built-in `i18n`
  - Additional Requirements:
    - Translated UI strings, legal documents, and metadata
    - hreflang tags for SEO
    - German numeric/date formatting

Accessibility

- Standards: WCAG 2.1 AA
- Checklist:
  - Keyboard navigation and proper aria labels
  - Screen reader support
  - High contrast UI and visible focus states

---

Testing

- Backend Testing:
  - `pytest` for unit and integration tests
  - API endpoint tests using FastAPI TestClient
- Frontend Testing:
  - `Cypress` or `Playwright` for E2E flow testing
- Load Testing:
  - `Locust` for upload and processing performance under high load
- Security Testing:
  - OWASP Top 10 compliance review

---

Monitoring & Logging

- Tools:
  - Sentry for application-level error tracking
  - Prometheus + Grafana (optional) for server and worker metrics
  - Centralized structured logging (JSON format)
- Alerts:
  - Task failures, queue congestion, upload errors
  - Disk usage or storage overflow
- Backup:
  - Not needed for transient files
  - Daily backup for configuration and database (if user accounts exist)

---

Pros

- Handles large files and multiple uploads efficiently
- Scalable background task system (Celery + Redis)
- GDPR-compliant hosting in Germany
- Secure file lifecycle with auto-deletion
- Full control over infrastructure and performance

Tech Stack, Language & Tools Details Report

---

Frontend

- Framework: React.js + Next.js
  - Language: JavaScript / TypeScript (optional for type safety)
  - UI Features:
    - Responsive UI with Next.js pages and components
    - Client-side file handling using `pdf-lib`, `PDF.js`, and WebAssembly-based libraries
    - Localization: German (using `next-i18next` or built-in i18n)
    - Browser-based processing (no file upload to server)

Backend

- Framework: Node.js + Express.js
